

HASTINGS COMMUNITY PLANNING RESOURCE

Why

Hundreds of planning and regeneration documents are produced every time new money comes to Hastings. Plans are made. Consultations are held. Then both are forgotten or duplicated a few years later. More continuity is needed.

Aims

To stimulate more and better community engagement in local planning and regeneration.

To improve local library and internet resources on community engagement in local planning and regeneration (past, present and future) by pooling local knowledge and information.

To create a model for a generic local resource about community engagement in planning and regeneration.

Resources planned

New planning and regeneration section in the University Centre Hastings Library in Havelock Road.

Website providing easy access to resources for local community groups and individuals.

Contribute

Do you have archives on planning projects in your area?

Please let us have details.

Do you want any support with planning projects in your area? (eg research, project work, publicity)

Please let us know what.

Would you like to receive more information on this project?

Please give us your email address.

A partnership initiative to create better resources for community engagement in planning and regeneration in Hastings & St Leonards.

Further information

Nick Wates,
Project Manager

Nick Wates Associates (NWA),
Creative Media Centre,
45 Robertson Street,
Hastings, East Sussex TN34 1HL
t. 01424 205446
info@nickwates.co.uk
www.nickwates.co.uk

Project partners

University of Brighton

Hastings Trust
Hastings Voluntary Action
Hastings Borough Council

University of Brighton
– Coastal Regeneration Resource Centre
– University Centre Hastings
– Community University Partnership Programme.

Nick Wates Associates

Thanks: With seed funding from the
On our doorsteps programme.